

Field: Youth Corporate Engagement
Name: Global Shapers Forum
Location: Bangalore, Karnataka, India
Name of Position: Program Manager

Brief Description of Organization:

Global Shapers is a World Economic Forum initiative that focuses on developing opportunities for youth to network and engage with prominent corporations, including CEO shadowing, intensive leadership programs, corporate bridging, and exposure visits to start-ups. The aim of Global Shapers is to create career-defining opportunities for youth that will prepare them for success, while at the same time generating unique employee engagement programs for corporations.

Information Specific to the Internship:

Program Manager

Qualifications:

This internship is open to both undergraduate and graduate students with interest or experience in global business and/or youth corporate engagement.

Primary Responsibilities:

The intern will be responsible for raising scholarship donations from corporations, developing proposals and presentations, assisting in the planning and management of Global Shapers events, and interacting and building relationships with CEOs.

Schedule:

Summer internship opportunity of up to 8 weeks in duration.

Stipend/Assistance:

Global Shapers is able to provide a general stipend, transportation assistance, and support in the accommodations search process. Please inquire directly for specific information regarding internship compensation.

To Apply:

Please contact Sangeeth Varghese, Founding Curator (sangeethv@post.harvard.edu) for application requirements.

For logistical inquiries (for example, questions about securing living or transportation arrangements) e-mail Murlidhar K (murlidhark@globalshapers.in).

Website:

<http://www.globalshapers.in>